

QUINCY AMARIKWA

QUINCY OBINA AMARIKWA 10.29.1987 BAKERSFIELD, CA

PROFILE

Though an active professional soccer player for 13 years now, Quincy Amarikwa has invested the last 23 years pursuing his off field passion of Entrepreneurship, VC, Mentality Development & Cultural Programing.

Quincy's philosophy and methodology for the game has helped hundreds of professional players and thousands of youth players to further develop their on and off field talents.

Quincy is a husband, father of three boys, farmer #AmarikwaAcres and born the eldest and only son of four to father Charles Amarikwa from Owerri, Nigerian, and mother Veronica Amarikwa from Superior, Montana.

He learned his work ethic and self-reliance early on from his parents and has applied that not only to his soccer career but to every aspect of his life.

Nathan Hunt

U.S. Soccer Federation Coach Educator

"An important trait of a leader is to inspire others. Quincy has a fantastic attitude and work ethic that rivals the best of the best! Quincy is authentic and has a willingness to stand up for what he believes in. He not only has the vision of a great leader, but he also possesses the skill to implement the vision day to day. When you work with Quincy, this is how he inspires you. You want to work as hard as he does. You want to be yourself and provide what you can to the collective. You want to find the right vision for the right reason. Quincy Amarikwa will be a great person as a professional to collaborate with now and in the future."

Chris Malenab

USSF A-Senior Licensed Coach

"Since building a relationship with Quincy and Perfect Soccer, I have enjoyed working with someone who has the same goals in mind, being part of the process in developing the soccer player and more importantly the human being."

Quincy is the first player in MLS history to launch his iconic sketch comedy show #QuincyTime in 2013, Life Of A Pro Vlog in 2016 and The

#AskASoccerPro Show in 2019. (150+ episodes to date - Past guest include: Wayne Rooney, Sean Johnson, Sam Mewis, Pablo Mastroeni, Earl Edwards Jr., Ben Olsen, and Alexi Lalas among others)

On top of his player Mental Health cultural programs and philanthropic work as Founder of Black Players For Change, Quincy is the first pro player to mint a NFT and successfully launched the Evolve Collection.

This highlights his vision, forward thinking approach and ability to coordinate and successfully carry out an organization's goals and objectives that positively impact it's values and profitability.

These skills would translate well in any organization or team looking to find and/or create resourceful longterm solutions to complex, fluid situations in a post pandemic and more culturally aware world.
